

Key Indicator 3.4: Extension Activities

3.4.1. Extension activities are carried out in the neighbourhood community, sensitizing students to social issues for their holistic development and impact thereof during the years.

Our college is committed to inculcating social values and responsibilities in both faculty members and students by actively engaging in extension activities within the neighbourhood community. These initiatives aim to contribute to the holistic development of society while fostering a sense of accountability and compassion among participants.

Every year, all departments collectively donate funds as part of their social service initiatives under Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) activities, which are directed toward addressing the needs of the less privileged. For instance, the institution has donated stationery items to school children to support their education and learning journey.

Our students actively engage in various extension activities under the broader theme of Social Responsibility, including health and public welfare initiatives. The college, as a responsible academic institution, extended its support by donating cloths, sanitizers, and other essential supplies to the local community.

Additionally, through initiatives like the National Service Scheme (NSS) and National Cadet Corps (NCC), the institution conducts camps and outreach programs to serve society. Regular yoga sessions are organized for students, faculty, and the neighborhood to spread awareness about its benefits in reducing stress, enhancing focus, and achieving a balanced lifestyle. During outreach programs, yoga workshops are conducted to educate the community on its role in improving overall health and managing chronic conditions. Such programs also aim to address broader societal issues, emphasizing the importance of health, education, and environmental sustainability.

Above all, these initiatives enable our students to gain a deeper understanding of social justice, responsibility, and sustainability. They leave a lasting impact, empowering students to become proactive and empathetic citizens while contributing meaningfully to the betterment of society."
